\Discipleship in the Home

Welcome to our presentation on discipleship in the home. As parents, it's our responsibility to teach and guide our children in their faith. Let's explore how we can make discipleship a priority in our families.

+

What is Discipleship?

Discipleship is the process of becoming more like Jesus and committing to follow Him. While this process often happens within the church, it's just as important to practice discipleship in the home. It involves intentionally investing in our children's spiritual growth.

Discipleship in Action

Now that we have a foundation of what discipleship is and why it's important, let's put it into action. Here are a few practical things you can do to start prioritizing discipleship in your home:

- Create a Family Devotion Time
Set aside a time each week for your family to participate in a devotion. Use a devotional book or guide to help lead the discussion.
- Be Intentional with Family Time
Use family activities like game night or movie night as an opportunity to build deeper relationships and engage in faith conversations.
- Memorize Scripture Together
Choose a verse or passage to memorize together as a family. Practice saying it aloud and discussing its meaning.
